Re: Shin Sort and Search Database System Program and User's Manual

Dear Dr. Shin:

LIBRARY
OF CONGRESS

We are delaying registration because application does clearly describe the new, copyrightable authorship that you have created for this revised version the work.

Copyright protects the textual, pictorial, or musical expression embodied in a work. By law, however, copyright does not protect "any idea, procedure, process, system, method of operation, concept, principle, or discovery, regardless of the form in which it is described, illustrated or embodied" in a work.

A mathematical formula or algorithm, which is in essence an idea, is not subject to copyright.

Please submit a new application. In space 6a, describe the excluded material as you did in your current application. In both space 2 and space 6b, describe your new material as "revised and additional text of database program and user's manual and some additional text."

Please give the date of publication for this version of the work at space 3b (not the date for the original version).

You may either mail your reply or fax it to (202) 707-1237.

Please reply within 120 days and return the enclosed Reply Sheet referring to our Control Number.

Note: The Copyright Office is experiencing some delays in receiving and processing mail, due to increased security measures. All mail, including U.S. Postal Service mail and shipments by private carriers such as Fedex, UPS, DHL, and Airborne Express, is screened before it is delivered to the Copyright Office.

REPLY SHEET

PLEASE RETURN THIS SHEET WITH YOUR REPLY!

Reply time

The Copyright Office generally allows 120 days from the date of the postmark to receive a reply to our letter. If the Office establishes a different reply time, it will be stated in our letter.

Consequences of not replying to our letter regarding a pending registration

If we do not receive a reply within the reply time allowed, the case file will be closed. In this case:

- any unpublished work will be returned.
- published works may be forwarded for use in the collections of the Library of Congress or for disposition under the provisions of the current copyright law.
- your filing fee cannot be re-used.

To re-apply for registration after the case file is closed, you will have to submit new registration material (application, deposit, and fee). The effective date of registration will be based on the new submission.

Significance of the effective date of registration

Though registration is not a condition for securing copyright, delaying the effective date of registration can have serious consequences. In an infringement suit, a court may not award statutory damages or attorney's fees if the infringement began before the effective date of registration, unless registration was made within a grace period of 3 months following publication and the infringement started after first publication.

Dear Examiner Martley:

After sending my fax to you on 9/20/2007, I have not received any response from you. Thus, I am sending you another fax today to find out everything is all right for my copyright process. While waiting, I am concerned because I have not sent you any revised manuscript but only changed the description of the manuscript that I sent to you on 7/25/2007 as you requested in your letter dated 8/24/2007. May I look forward to receiving the copyright registration certificate soon? If I need to do more than just waiting, please send an email to contact@dkshin.com for further aid from me. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,
